

Calculus Online Tutoring Center

How to Post a Forum

Just look for the topic that you need and make a post by writing in the box below it.

When posting questions in the forums, please observe the following rules:

- 1) Please do not post a new problem in a reply to an existing problem! This makes the discussion difficult to follow.
- 2) Please, do not include two problems in the same post. Please, start a new discussion topic for each problem.
- 3) Please use long and informative titles for your questions/discussion topics. It will help us to track the problem better if you include :
 - * Name of the homework assignment. If it is from the textbook, include the name of the section
 - * The problem number
- 4) Please, look through other discussions, you may will find an answer to your question. Also, do not hesitate to reply to a question --- discussions are open for everyone to contribute!